

Investing in new software isn't always an option. Getting the most of your existing investment is, however.

If you're like many enterprises, you are deriving 80% of your ROI from 20% of the software's functionality. Imagine what you could achieve with even part of that dormant 80%.

You need a PeopleSoft specialist who cares enough about the technology and your success to show you the way to do the right thing.

Do More By Using What You Have

Our process examines in depth very specific business processes with a level of detail few can emulate. We partner our highly seasoned and experienced experts with MIPRO's unmatched knowledge of the PeopleSoft software to help you discover and harness new opportunities to reduce operating expenses—including indirect labor, purchasing and spending—as well as streamline and optimize business processes.

There truly is more juice in the squeeze.

We can help you:

- Get the most out of the PeopleSoft applications you already own.
- Ensure your systems are helping you meet today's business realities, not yesterday's.
- Identify any shelf-ware you have and use it to meet pressing business concerns.

PeopleSoft Value Optimization

MIPRO consultants follow a structured optimization methodology, utilizing proven fact-finding discovery techniques and drawing from years of experience—working with and at PeopleSoft—that date back to the product's innovations.

Our consultants help you comb through the nuances of your PeopleSoft applications and identify, recommend and implement functionality that you already have. This enables you to support your company's current business objectives without the disruption of a full-blown upgrade project.

What we'll do:

- Assess your most important priorities in today's challenging times as they relate to your company, clients and employees.
- Identify how you're using your systems today along with any technology or process gaps. Our consultants have unmatched perspective on what works for PeopleSoft applications.
- Determine if your PeopleSoft deployment is meeting your goals and congruent with today's economic climate.
- Unlock full functionality to help you benefit from software you already have.
